

Archetype Report

Your archetype describes the kinds of activities that you enjoy. This improves your matches by sorting careers with activities you enjoy to the top, and those with activities that you don't like to the bottom. These traits can be interesting to read—you may be surprised to find a hidden interest of yours!

You are an Inventor

Your strongest trait is Realistic, and your second strongest is Enterprising, which makes you an Inventor.

Inventors are skilled physical workers and have the ability to take the role as a natural leader. They enjoy fixing, building, and repairing things. Even with their very practical skills, Inventors have the energy and ability to take risks in their work. They easily relate to the physical world and rely on their intuition when they work.
